

Program Costs and Financial Aid

Joint Ph.D. Program in Education

San Diego State University offers doctoral programs jointly through agreements with doctoral granting institutions in California. When students admitted to a designated Joint Doctoral Program (JDP), they are permitted to use the educational resources at both campuses.

As a JDP student you may be enrolled in courses at one institution only, or at both concurrently.

Given the fact that student course-taking patterns and time to completion vary tremendously, an exact program cost is difficult to determine.

Here are some facts to help you arrive at an accurate estimate:

- CGU course tuition is presently $1,980 per unit. Since you are required to take 24 units at CGU, you can expect minimal tuition charges of $47,520.
  - There is a student services fee of $245 and a technological fee of $125 per semester at CGU.

- For part time attendance (0-6.0 units) at SDSU, the current total cost is $3,071.
  - For full time attendance (6.1 + units) at SDSU, the current total cost is $4,577.

- Once coursework has been completed, you must enroll every semester in Doctoral Studies at CGU. The current fee is $2,275.
- During your last semester, you must be enrolled in Doctoral Studies at CGU ($2,275) and in 6 units of Dissertation Studies at SDSU ($3,071).

Tuition and fees are subject to increase at any time. Books and Instructional material expenses are not included.

Procedures for receiving aid:

When you complete your FAFSA (www.fafsa.ed.gov), list the federal school code of one or both institutions to receive your FAFSA data, depending on the following enrollment conditions. SDSU's federal code is 001151. CGU's federal code is G01169.

- If you are enrolled entirely through another institution

You must obtain financial aid from that institution. (Check with that institution for their aid application process.)

- If you are enrolled only through SDSU

You obtain your financial aid from SDSU.

Complete and submit a Doctoral Program Enrollment Questionnaire. It will be available on your AidLink account after we receive your FAFSA data.

- If you are enrolled concurrently at both SDSU (home institution) and another campus (host institution)

You may receive financial aid from either institution, but not from both institutions during the same semester. The campus at which you are enrolled determines where you will receive financial aid.

- If you choose to receive your financial aid through SDSU, you must:

1. Complete the Doctoral Program Enrollment Questionnaire that will be available through AidLink after we receive your FAFSA information.
2. Complete a Verification of Enrollment for Joint Doctoral Program Students form, if you are enrolled in less than 5 units at SDSU (home institution). This form is also available through AidLink.

NOTE: When you are a concurrently enrolled JDP student, you must complete this form each semester that you are enrolled in less than 5 units at SDSU. You may download additional copies of this form from the Forms link, if needed.

Full Time Status:

- Enrollment in 8 units or more at CGU or Doctoral Studies is considered full time
- Enrollment in 9 units or more at SDSU is considered full time
